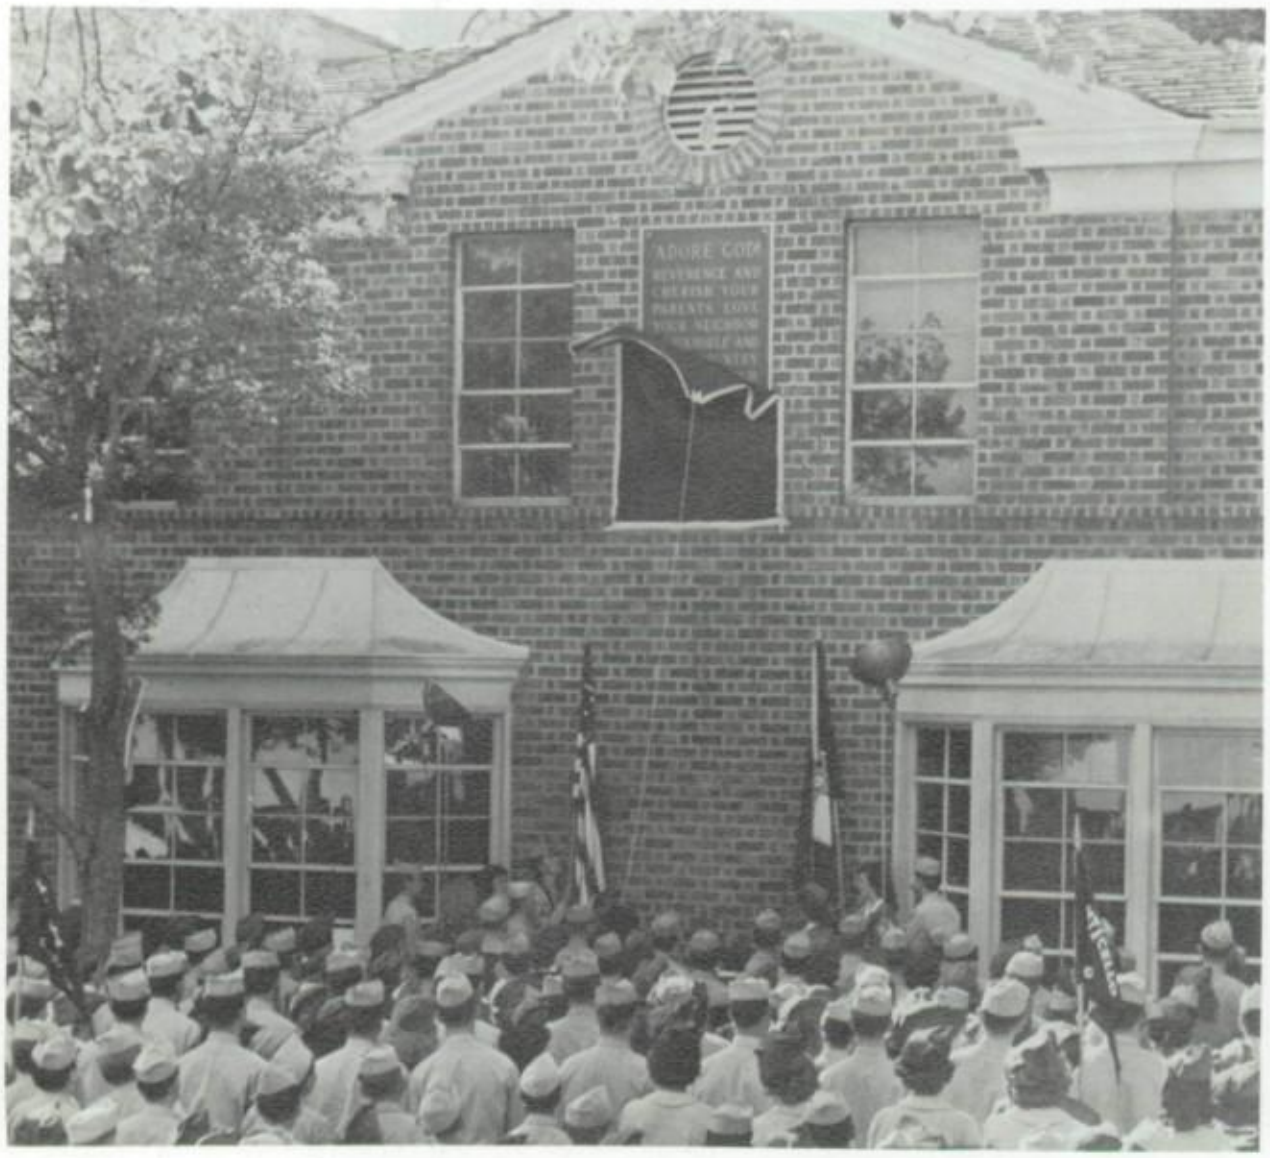
New School Symbolizes United States Heritage



Bellarmine-Jefferson High Schoo became an historical landmark o October 25, 1949. At this time, th first shovel full of earth was turned t mark the beginning of the main build ing of the school which started wit the north wing in 1944. Archbisho James Francis McIntire is watched b (l. to r.) senior Owen O'Brien, Msgr John McCarthy, Rev. Harold Krem ens, Janice Toelkes, James Rawley Msgr. Keating, Sister Mary Alissio BVM, Michael Doyle and Barbara Casale.

A unique feature of the building i the tower which is a replica of Inde pendence Hall, the shrine of Ameri can freedom. Mounted on the cloc tower are the two sides of the origina seal of the United States. The hand of the clock are stopped at significan hours in the birth of the United States 8:00 p.m. July 4, 1776 and 4:00 p.m September 17, 1787 when the Declar ation of Independence and the Consti tution were signed.

In a burst of glory, the sun rose and fiery hands flickered out as it pulled itself into the incandescent sky. Long shadows began to shorten, revealing in a new light much that had been enveloped in darkness. Then imperceptibly at first, the shadows began to lengthen again as the sun arched toward the distant horizons.

As it had followed this same path each year for twenty-five years, the symbolic sun beamed upon Bellarmine-Jefferson and its students. Its illumination represents many things. It is the light of knowledge we have gained from our teachers, because of our own thirst for new discoveries. It is the glow we feel as new friendships appear, and old ones deepen. It is the aura of content we discover through fruitful labor and honorable achievement.

These feelings are all embodied in this twenty-fifth sun. It is a sun which will shine within us to dispel the darkness of the shadows which we must meet each tomorrow of our lives.

Patriotic Monsignor Fulfills American Dream

The students of Bellarmine-Jefferson High School honor Msgr. Martin Cody Keating on this Twenty-fifth Anniversary of our school. Many of Monsignor's eighty-five years of active and dedicated life have been devoted to St. Robert Bellarmine Parish, High School and Grade School. Monsignor first began his long and fruitful career here when he was assigned in 1930 to what was then Holy Trinity Parish. Its area encompassed all of Burbank and other Valley communities. Since that time the original parish has been divided into several other parishes. In 1939, Holy Trinity parish was renamed in honor of the sixteenth century saint, Robert Bellarmine. Through his writings, Bellarmine fought to establish the divine right of the people to rule, thus exemplifying the harmony that exists between the Judaic-Christian tradition and the ideals of Americanism as set down in the Preamble to the Declaration of Independence, written by Thomas Jefferson in 1776.

It was on this premise — the inter-relationship that exists between God and Country — that Monsignor founded Bellarmine-Jefferson High School in 1944. Love of God and Love of Country are complimentary, each bringing the other to its ultimate fulfillment. Our school's flagpole, rising from a star of David and cross base, symbolizes the God-American relationship.

Monsignor has always maintained, "We never realize how fortunate we are in this country, and we must remember and never lose sight of the foundation on which this country was built." The freedoms guaranteed to all people in this country under the Constitution and the responsibilities that necessarily follow have been carefully taught to us here at Bellarmine-Jefferson. To recognize those students who excel in citizenship, as of last year the high school established special Keating awards, named in honor of the man whose beliefs form a basis for citizenship.

And so we thank you, Monsignor Keating, for giving us a firm structure upon which to build our lives. We appreciate your guidance and hope to live up to your high expectations.

Students And Faculty

Student leaders (l. to r.) Cathy McGann, John Faubion, Larry Heath, and Marcia Nos welcome Sister Mary Laurene Brady to her position as B-J Principal.

The nucleus of our successful administration is our new principal, Sister Laurene Brady. She comes to us a former vice-principal at Mount Carmel High School, Wichita, Kansas with a B.A. and a Master's in Mathematics. She has also received National Science Foundation grants. The grants were from Clarke College (computers) and two summers at Notre Dame University (math). She has truly become an important part of our B-J family. We thank her for her contribution and dedication in helping us to make this year worthwhile.

Also essential to an effective administration is an interested and helpful vice-principal. Sister Mary St. Eleanor has been here three years. Her duty as vice-principal and our dean of girls have enabled her to help and to know the students personally.

This year Bellarmine-Jefferson faculty numbers 27. Headed by the Sisters of Charity of the B.V.M., the faculty is composed of 11 sisters, 1 priest, 6 laywomen, and 9 laymen.

The life of a faculty member is a busy one. In addition to teaching daily classes and counseling students, he is expected to attend monthly meetings at which areas pertaining to the school are discussed and outside guests are invited to speak on social justice and educational innovations. One of the long range projects designed by our industrious faculty members is a school evaluation, which closely involves the parents of the students. Carefully guiding their students, faculty members take part in extra-curricular activities such as school drives, and act as club moderators.

SENIORS

Bell-Jeff Seniors Begin to "Behold the Future"

Now as the torch of time passes
We gradually step out of our homespun shoes
And begin in weaving our own grips on life
And greet our welcoming world
We have spent four long years engroping these halls
And we will spend forty more reliving them
There have been hard times
And happy times
Times of insecurity and times of confidence
Like so many times in life
We will learn from what we have lived
We will use our knowledge learned
For learning more
And what we have forgotten
We will soon remember
We came here open
Alive and full of hope
And it would be good
If we could leave the same openness
Here dreams have been begun
And destroyed
Yet whenever we have tried
We have given it all
Whether it be a Homecoming Game
Or a final exam
A building of pride
Or the swallowing of it
We have done it
No matter whether we won or lost
Achieved or failed
We have kept our shoulders back
Our heads up
And our spirit high
Because we have lived and grown through our hearts
With our consciences to guide us
And our friends to help us
And we will remember it all.

Four years together. Old friends and new friends. Years of joy and hardships, dances and tests, games and homework. Four years of life and growing up that you would not trade for anything on earth.

You have seen three classes leave before you and you have worked for the day that you would leave too. That day has come and now you look back at your four years at Bellarmine. You left something behind. A gift some of you didn't even realize existed. Only the three classes behind you will know what it was. The day you leave, a memory will take your place. The classes of '70, '71 and '72 will know why the halls are silent.

To dream of what has yet been accomplished, to strive for the unattainable, you begin to comprehend the meaning of the world and your future. Your faces now experience the end of what is just a long beginning. You young people say not only goodbye, but arise and behold the future.

Student Government Combines Unique Spirit With

The Associated Student Body Cabinet is the executive branch of the student government. Headed by President: Larry Heath; Vice-President: Mary Ann Hoffmann; Secretary: Marcia Nos; and Treasurer: John Faubion and moderated by Sister Mary Catherine O'Dwyer, these four leaders strive to bring students and faculty to a closer relationship. Its main function is the sponsoring of the Student Council, from which all other activities stem. Such activities include the Welcome and Homecoming Dances, Activities Night, assembly programs, Faculty Dinner-Christmas Party and the A.S.B. elections. Our very successful fiesta, the clean up week, and countless other projects were also sponsored by the Cabinet.

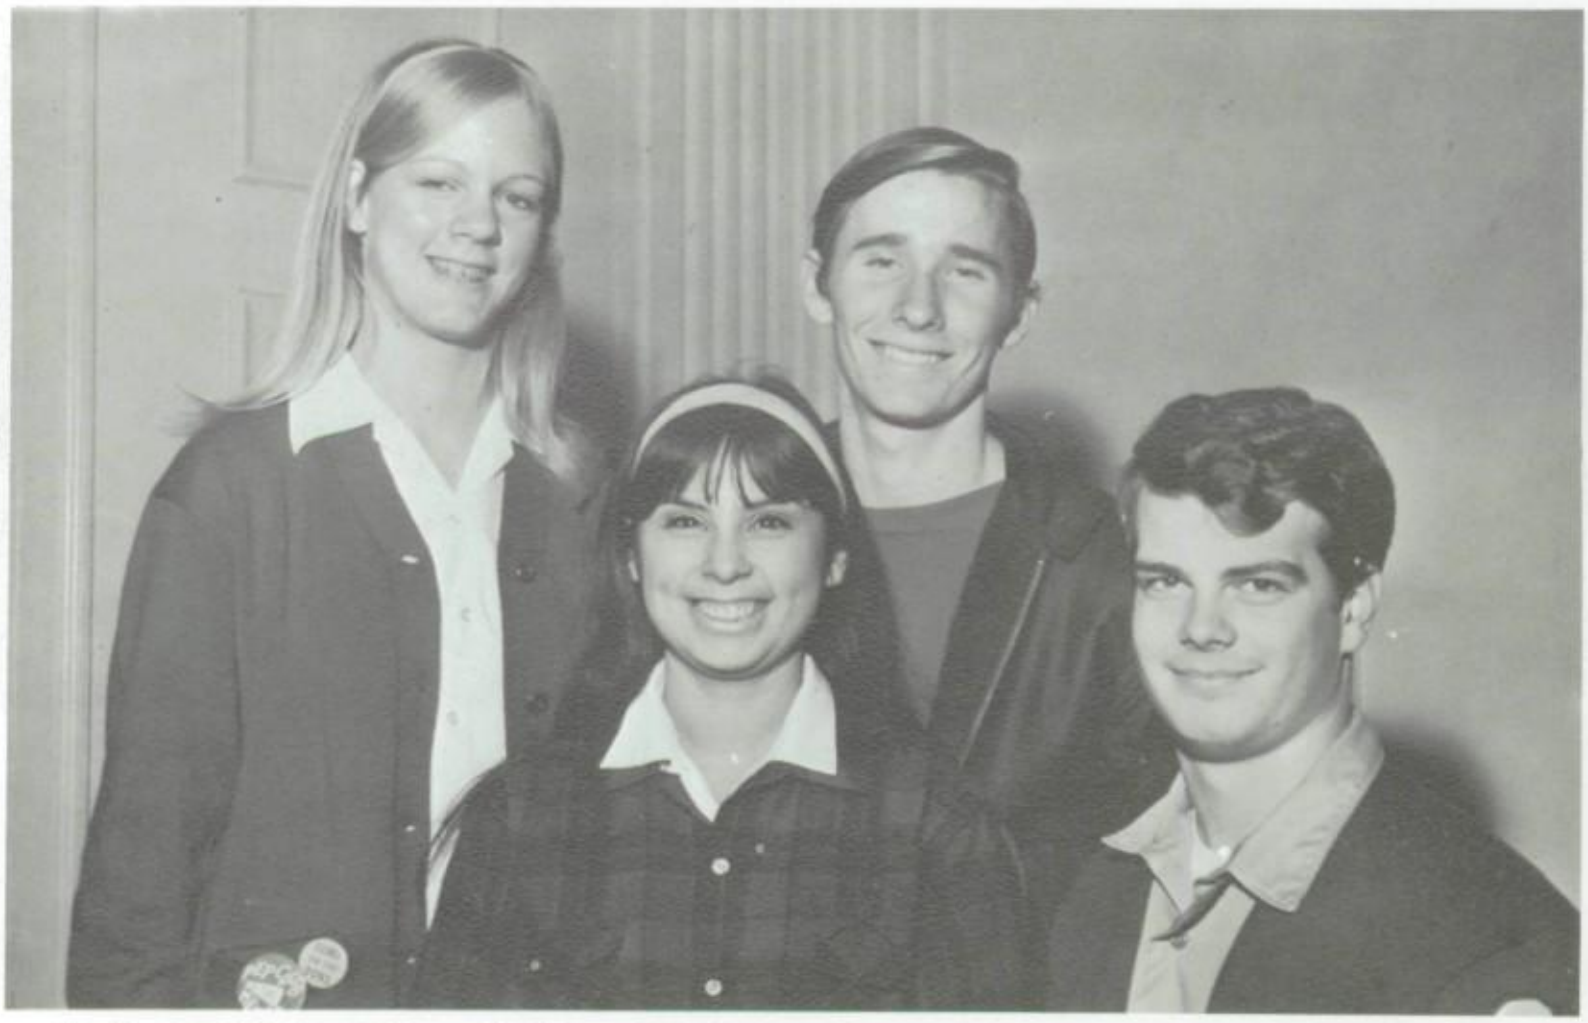
Pep Club Moves Swiftly Through the School Year



The Pep Club Officers, who made this year's club a special one, were Donna Hoffmann, Secretary; Alice Moreno, Vice-president; Tim Heath, Treasurer and Terry Murphy, President.

New duties, new privileges, and a new height of spirit and school loyalty were the chief aims of the Pep Club.

Our dedicated officers were: President Terry Murphy; Vice-president Alice Moreno; Secretary Donna Hoffmann and Treasurer Tim Heath. These four, together with the cheerleaders, organized and sponsored the Homecoming Bonfire Rally, the Basket Ball, and the spirit filled Pep Rallies.

Pep Club members were all asked to participate in the organization of important club projects and to attend all home league games during both football and basketball seasons. As a result, game attendance reached an all-time high, and the projects were well planned and carried out.

B-J Cheerleaders-Varsity and JV- Discover A

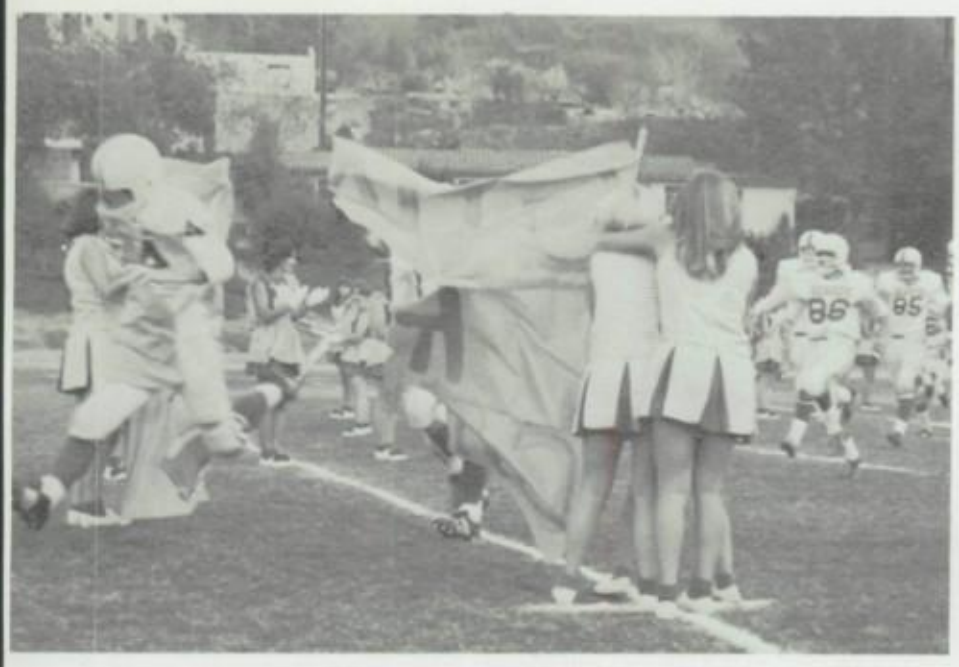
The varsity cheerleaders-Lorette Schirm, Laurie Murrin, Chris Kilduff, Debbie Miland, and head cheerleader Cathy Zambrano set the town afire with SPIRIT!

From sunrise to sunset, five figures could be seen scurrying about. Their mission? These were our Varsity Cheerleaders, five senior girls, who worked to promote what they think is Bellarmine's most valuable asset, Spirit. Elected in May, 1968, their duties were many and difficult but most enjoyable. Head Cheerleader Cathy Zambrano, and her squad: Laurie Murrin, Chris Kilduff, Debbie Miland, and Lorette Schirm, supported football and basketball teams, staged pep rallies with the help of Pep Club members, and generally had a glorious time. The Varsity Squad now leaves its inviting positions to any girl who will cherish them as much.

"From Practice . . . "

" . . . to Perfection?"

Delightful Duty With Many Fulfilling Rewards.



One aspect of cheerleading is creating half-time spirit during the games.

Helen Stockman portrays the exertion of a hard day of practice.

Three Junior girls had their first taste of the excitement of cheerleading this year. Helen Stockman (head), Mary Webber and Nancy Cetner joined the Pep Club board as Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. All year long the love of their job showed through in the quality of its execution.

They painted encouraging signs, helped organize rallies, and put much of their time and effort behind the J.V. football and basketball teams. Undoubtedly, this devoted support aided the successful outcome of both seasons, which was reward enough for these dedicated girls.

J. V. Cheerleaders, Mary Webber, Nancy Cetner and head cheerleader Helen Stockman climb high on spirit.

The California Scholarship Federation is an organization whose motto is "Scholarship for Service." The purpose of this group is to foster a higher standard of excellence in scholastic achievement and to broaden the ideals of generosity among the students. Eligibility for membership is determined by academic achievement in the preceeding semester.

Students who have earned membership during four semesters, one of which is in their senior year become life members, or sealbearers. The Chapter Seal is embossed upon their diploma at the time of graduation, and they receive sealbearer pins. Sealbearers are entitled to apply for CSF scholarships granted by all California colleges and universities and many out-of-state colleges.

Bellarmine-Jefferson's Tri-B Chapter of the Future Secretaries of America celebrated its first year of operation at our school. Sponsored by the San Fernando Valley Chapter of the National Secretaries Association, the purpose of this organization is to help all members better understand the secretarial field and to acquaint them with the problems of the business world. Members are required to be of good character, have above average grades, and must be taking business classes. Field trips, job training, and the FSA Seminar are just a few of the activities highlighting the year. Kathy Faus, Secretary of the club's Burbank Chapter, placed as a runner-up in the Miss Future Secretary Contest, which is an important scheduled event. Under the hard work of Burbank's Chapter President, Chris Jimenez, Future Secretaries made tremendous progress. Outstanding members were recognized at a final celebration dinner at the year's close.

The Girls' Athletic Association is a club whose main purpose is to promote an interest in girls' sports. This years' officers included: Andrea Kovalesky, President; Georganne Funicello, Vice-president; Ceil Roux, Secretary-treasurer; and Fran White, Social Chairman. G.A.A. had a membership of one hundred active girls. Under the joint cooperation of Miss Miller and the members, G.A.A. held a Christmas party, an Awards Banquet, and a horse back riding expedition. They also went ice skating, had a picnic, and sponsored a dance.

The G.A.A. Cheerleaders of this year were: Mary Fontanini, Patti Luce, Claire Maund, and Ceil Roux. They showed an excellent spirit throughout the entire year and actively encouraged attendance at girls' games.

The Reelmen Club, founded by Sister Mary Catherine O'Dwyer seventeen years ago, is the school's oldest organization. It has long been among the most active in devoting time to assisting at the various school functions. Dedicated to the support of the school by training students in the field of the operation of audio-visual and stage equipment, membership requires a willingness to spend the time and effort necessary to complete the activities set before the club. Projects include: assisting at the school plays, decoration of a homecoming car, Reelmen Club dance with light show, movies after school, and the acquiring and installing of new auditorium amplifiers. For this invaluable contribution to the school, we salute the "real men" of Bellarmine-Jefferson High School. Though small in number, their influence is great. We hope they will continue in their fine service for another 17 years.

Library Club Creates New Dimensions Through Books

The Library Club, under the direction of Sister Mary Jean Ellen, has been a school organization for ten years.

The Library Club members are asked to give up one study hall a week to become an Assistant Librarian and to help make the library an instructional center of the school.

Activities of the club include Christmas and end of the year parties, and an outing each semester. The club also celebrates Catholic Book Week each year with an interesting program.

The officers of the club this year are: President: Linda Wardrop; Vice-president: Claire Desmarais; Secretary-Treasurer: Terry Hladky; and Editor: Dee dee Schaub.

This year's officers were Pat Noonan, President; Cathy McGann, Vice-president; Andrea Kovalesky, Secretary (first semester); Peggy de Diego, Secretary (second semester); and Perry Christensen, Treasurer.

Through the joint guidance of Sister Rita, Sister Eileen and Father Walters, and the combined efforts of all the members, S.A.M.P. sponsored a dance, a Mission Drive and Candlelighting. The club also was in charge of the Thanksgiving Food Drive, worked on Mary's Day, several Masses and made new vestments for the students' Masses.

The Bellarmine-Jefferson Mixed Chorus received a new director this year, Miss Suzanne Kiechle. Under her leadership twenty-seven students learned to appreciate music through rehearsals and concerts, and to bring about a good musical experience by working together.

This year our Mixed Chorus participated in several festivals. One was a choral festival at Providence High School in March. In another, the Mixed Chorus joined with other high school choruses and the Loyola University and Mount Saint Mary's College choral groups. Under the direction of Mr. Paul Salemunovich, they were accompanied by a full orchestra. The festival took place in April.

The Mixed Chorus provided entertainment for the school as well. They presented a Folk Assembly, a Christmas program and a Spring Concert.

The officers of the Chorus were: Presidents: Linda Wardrop and Tony Werner; and Librarian: Peggy de Diego. According to Miss Kiechle the outstanding members were: Leslie Stratton, Peggy de Diego, Linda Wardrop and Bob Alviani, each chosen for outstanding co-operation.

Excitement And Adventure Come To B-J's Yearbook

Shalom was started as a Senior project three years ago and this year the staff drew up a constitution and set regulations for membership making Shalom a club within the school. Membership was attained by having a filed application approved.

Cathy McGann, Editor, helped the staff distinguish good yearbook standards by applying the ideas she brought home with her from yearbook camp. Under her leadership the Shalom staff produced a new and better yearbook employing many new techniques.

Shalom gained a unifying element and theme for the first time when it was placed in the Yearbook classification. In Bellarmine's first real yearbook there was an expansion of the number of pages, a hard cover, a Senior index, an ad section, color photography, and lead off pages for each important section of the book.

To make the third edition of Shalom possible, twenty-seven staff members split into four major groups, each one a vital part of a good yearbook.

Rick Luce headed the Photography Committee without which our yearbook would have been impossible. Next was the Copy Committee with Carol Clancy in charge. Its job was to explain the pictures and story of the school year. Dan Barillaro headed the Art staff which added its own form of creativity to the book. The Layout Committee's job was to put the work of the other three committees together onto the pages of the yearbook. Cathy McGann took the position of leading this group.

Another committee which was important for the publication of Shalom was the Financial Committee. Under the direction of Linda Wardrop, the patrons and sponsors drive and the ad campaign were launched. The hard work of the staff and the inspiration of the moderator, Sister Eileen, and of Killgore Graphics' representative Mr. Jon Nelson, made this yearbook possible.

Each year, the members of the science classes combine their studies with their own special interests to create informative projects. These exhibits are put on display at the annual Science Fair.

Much time and effort were put into these projects. In the 1969 Science Fair, Andrea Kovalesky won the Sweepstakes Award. She injected cancer into a plant and then retarded it to stop its growth. Carol Clancy received first prize in Chemistry, John Sanchez in Biology, and Perry Christensen was awarded second prize in Physics.

Those who selected the winners were Sister Anne Paul, BVM; Father Lawerence Caruso, OFM; Sister Clarice, OP; Sister M. Prudentius, BVM; and Mr. Ira Katz.

Stamina Of Faculty And Seniors Is Shown On Court

Senior Cheerleaders Cathy Zambrano and Laurie Murrin pile on Debbie Miland and Chris Kilduff for the increase of power and strength to conquer.

Two years ago Bellarmine-Jefferson began to have competitive sports between faculty and seniors.

The first year began with rolicking football and basketball games which inspired this competition to continue between the faculty and the seniors. In the second year Bell-Jeff seniors challenged the faculty to a baseball game. This year it was decided to sponsor a basketball game in which the seniors as well as the faculty showed their sportsmanship. The seniors downed the faculty by a score of 48 to 36. Congratulations to both teams!

Watch out, Mike Byrne. Of course you heard the bell, but that was her head you hit.

Dunk-a-Doll Jill Haldeman: You're right there's a goldfish in here!

The Fiesta brought these people together. Were you there?

One of the most important fund-raising events of the year was the fiesta held October 19 and 20 by the St. Robert Bellarmine Parish Council. Both days brought enthusiastic crowds to enjoy the festivities and the Italian dinner. Among the attractions, the Dunk-a-Doll Booth drew a large crowd since a lucky throw succeeded in dunking an already drenched "friend." At a student sponsored booth, anyone could be an artist by creating his own psychedelic painting.

The greatest money-maker was a raffle of a 1969 Mustang. Tickets were sold through the cooperation of the students of Bellarmine-Jefferson and of their parents.

An air of happiness and fellowship surrounded the entire function. Everyone present was united in one cause — the success of our school.

The assemblies this year provided a variety of programs suited to each individual's taste. Since this was election year 1968, it was not surprising that we had political speakers. The Democratic and Republican parties each had three representatives.

Sister Eileen Muench, who is in charge of assemblies, selected a bright mixture of entertainment. For those who appreciate the fine arts, we had pianist Earl Weatherwax and singer Alice Rodriguez, a great choral group from Mount St. Mary's College and Loyola University, and a program of student films from U.S.C.

All those students that were here last year can well remember how Brad and Mike mix music with comedy to produce their unique brand of entertainment. These two young artists have a rare quality of showmanship that comes through in their performance.

From out of the depths of the Music Dept., our own Mixed Chorus brought forth a musical rendition of folk songs.

Turning to the more serious side of life, the Library Club has sponsored an Interfaith panel. The topic discussed was "Books Break Barriers," in accordance with the Catholic Book Week held February 16-22.

The excitement of the conventions appears at Bellarmine's own political rally.

Debbie Miland ponders her role as "Antigone".

This year the Acting department, under the auspices of Mrs. Ellen Covington, surprised the school with not one play but four. Roles were played by members of the Theater class, and stage direction was deftly handled by Mrs. Covington and Miss Rosemary L. Inslee, a graduate student of Fine Arts at U.C.L.A.

The four productions staged by these aspiring artists were "Charley's Aunt," "Love?", Jean Anouilh's modern version of "Antigone" and "The Skin of Our Teeth" by Thornton Wilder. The first of these was a broad English farce. The second, a light comedy, was a unification of three one act plays about love and marriage. The third play was a venture into the solemn world of Greek tragedy. A view of the everyday life was seen when the fourth play presented on the stage.

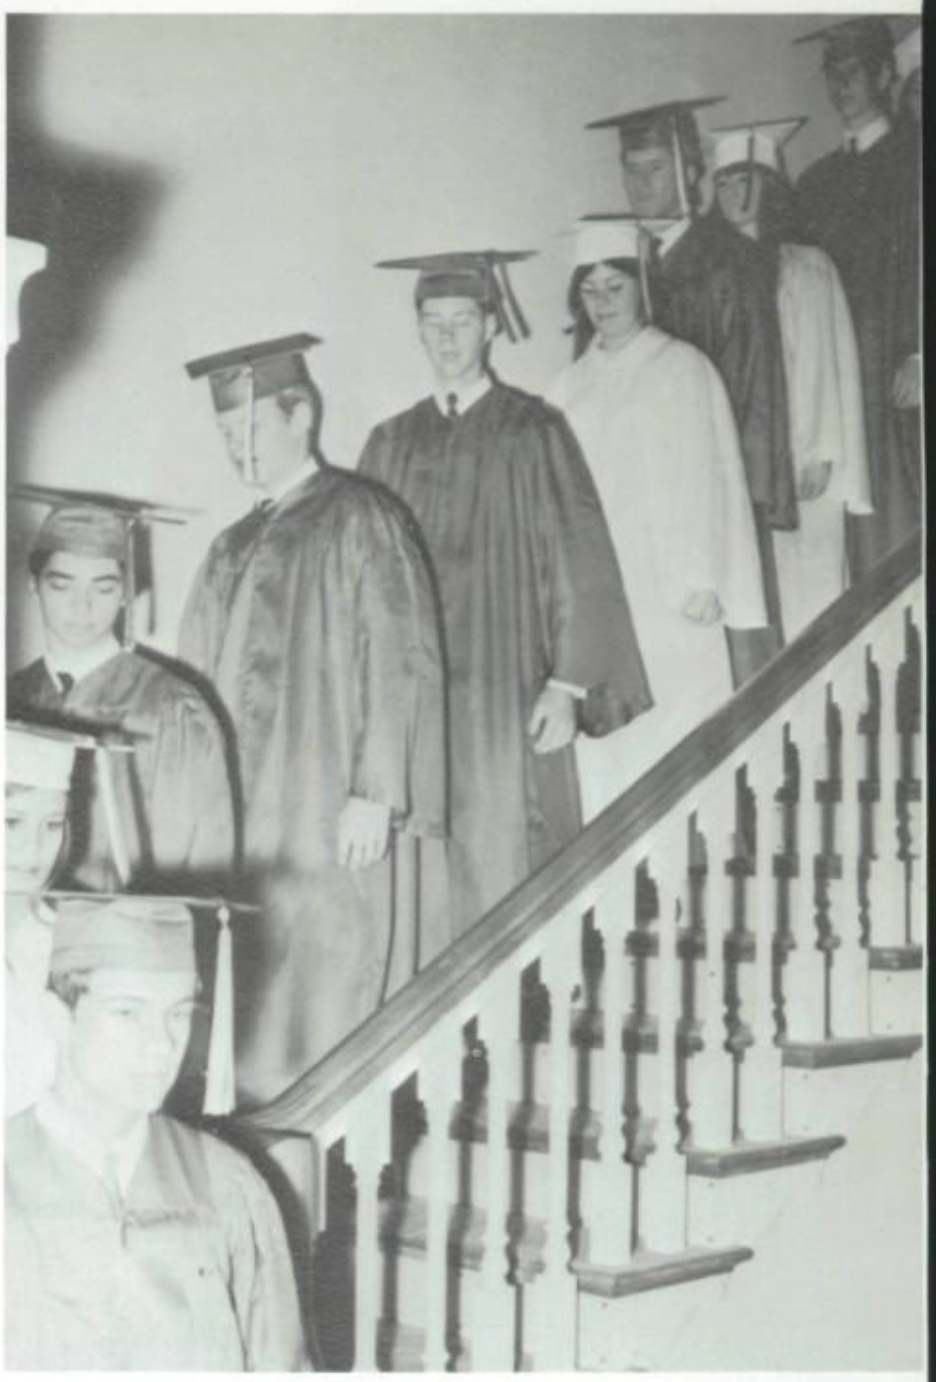
The Gate Of The Future Opens For Waiting Seniors

On June 4, 1969, eighty-six seniors and one junior bid their last farewell to Bellarmine-Jefferson High School.

Graduation is a time of much happiness and rejoicing. It is the ending of one phase of life and the beginning of another. With graduation, the time comes to stop and consider the new vistas which lie ahead. It is a time for setting new goals and exploring horizons.

Before they graduate the members of this year's class enjoy different activities to bring their last year to a happy close. The memories are ones to be cherished forever. The Honors Assembly took place to reward outstanding graduates for their dedication and service to the school. The class Valedictorian and Salutatorian were announced at this time. Next came Grad Night at Disneyland, with all of its sparkle and splendor. The senior picnic provided a day of fun and activities which will always be remembered. Both the senior movie, which was sponsored by the freshmen and the breakfast which was hosted by the sophomores, turned out to be great successes as their final thanks and remembrance.

As the seniors leave Bellarmine-Jefferson, they carry with them their joys and sorrows, hopes and tribulations which have echoed in the halls of their alma mater.



The Seniors walk through the foyer in solemn procession for the last time.

Sister Laurene congratulates Bob Horacek for the hard work he has done for the school at final honors convocation as the rest of the graduates look on with pride.

As They Turn The Key Handed Them At Graduation

The smiles and joy of the seniors Cathy Zambrano, Tom Perry, Laurie Murrin are seen by all as they accept that long-awaited key to future.

Gold Seal Bearers for the senior class include: Debbie Miland, Andrea Kovalesky, Julie Haley, Bob Horacek, Mary Sullivan, and Carol Clancy.

Mary Ann Hoffmann, Father Walters, and Pat Noonan watch as Cathy McGann crowns the Blessed Mother at Mary's Day festivities.

The warmth of the crowd welcomes Princess Cathy Zambrano to the throne.

With the streets of Burbank all to themselves, Bell-Jeff supporters let their spirit run high in the Homecoming Parade.

Queen Alice Moreno Reigns At Homecoming

With hours of preparation at an end, the 1968 Homecoming Court was presented to an anxious crowd: Third Princess Teri Harman, with her escort Tom Thielman; Second Princess Cathy Zambrano, with her escort Rick Luce; Queen Alice Moreno with her escort Bob Sottile; First Princess Laurie Murrin, with her escort Terry Murphy; and Fourth Princess Chris Kilduff with her escort Bill Delehanty.

Smoke and cheers from the bonfire and rally at Buena Vista Park surged toward a darkened sky, setting the mood for the 1968 Homecoming festivities.

Saturday morning, the celebration continued when students gathered on the parade ground to decorate for the biggest parade in Bellarmine-Jefferson's history. Lead by the Drill Team, the caravan of cars began at school with a final touch of elegance added by the Homecoming Queen and her court. The parade concluded at McCambridge Park where helium-filled balloons floated upward carrying with them the hopes of all for a victorious homecoming game against Valley Christian.

Our lovely queen, Alice Moreno, and her princesses, Laurie Murrin, Cathy Zambrano, Teri Harmon and Chris Kilduff were introduced to all at half-time. The Drill Team provided the rest of the half-time activities to the tune of "Black Is Black."

That evening, the theme of the Homecoming dance, Autumn Leaves, was artfully displayed with trees, waterfalls and vibrant autumn flowers. The music of the Scott Allen Orchestra reverberated through the night leaving behind it memories of an unsurpassed dance.

Strains of music floated softly over the swirling dancers at the B-J Junior-Senior Prom. This year our prom was held at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in the Golden State Room. Camelot was the theme and stately golden pillars set the mood for the evening. Music was produced by Bob Schermer and The Blue Notes.

Excitement mounted as the moment arrived for the announcement of the queen and her court. When the queen was announced, murmured exclamations and loud applause filled the room. The lovely queen Debbie Miland surrounded by her charming princesses Mary Ann Hoffman, Cathy McGann, Patti Molenda, and Lorette Schirm reigned over an enchanted evening in mystical Camelot.

Guards Shatter Pre-season Rivals

Tony Loya breaks on through to the other side of Webb's defense.

A fabulous season is the only possible description of he drive, determination, and spirit that was put forth by he Varsity football team. The Varsity Squad began the eason with an expected 4-0 record, and only three de- eats marred the 1968-1969 effort.

Under the skillful guidance of Coach Bill Craven, the Guards battled their way to a 6-3 over-all record, the best Bell-Jeff has seen in five years.

At the season-ending Sports Banquet, special recognition was given to "Mr. Consistant — Most Inspirational," John Foss; Most Valuable Back, Tom Thielman; and All-League Most Valuable Lineman, George Ray. Also joining George with Olympic League honors was Terry Murphy, chosen All-League Back.

The 8-17 record does little to show some of the spectacular moments of the season, including the fantastic near-upset of Olympic League Champions, the Valley Christian Crusaders. Other high points of the season were the 53-52 victory over Whittier Christian, giving the Guards the runner-up spot in the Bretheren Tournament, and a 63-24 win over Western Christian for fourth place in the Avalon Tournament.

Outstanding performances all season long were turned in by Seniors Larry Wilson and Rick Luce, and by Junior Tim Heath, who were voted all-league honorable mention.

The Bell-Jeff Junior Varsity Basketball team, though not victorious in league play, made a good showing in the Olympic League and represented its school well. Highlights were many, such as George Ray pulling in over twenty rebounds in a game, Phil Zehnpfennig making a timely block shot, Bob Alviani scoring eighteen points against Baptist and close games with scores of 29-34 and 53-54, both against Harvard, and 58-67 at Saint Genevieve. Leading the team in average points were Ron Grace, Tim Trumbo and George Ray. Still building, Bell-Jeff looks forward to a strong varsity team next year.

From Skillfull Precision To Spirited Sportmanship

Varsity pitcher Mike Byrne shows style and finesse as he fires a fastball in for Harvard batter.

Having lost only four men with last year's graduating class, the 1969 Bellarmine-Jefferson Varsity Baseball Team took the field experienced, to say the least. Much more can be said about the talent and potential so evident in each individual team member. No one overlooked these in pre-season discussions of league prospects, for the Guards were always among those mentioned as frontrunners for the Olympic League Crown.

Led by a pitching staff which included 1968 all-league team member Mike Byrne, they faced a tough schedule of sixteen games. The Guards were coached by Mr. Craven for the third year.

Jim DiBicarri winds up for a home run in Bell-Jeff-Harvard Game.

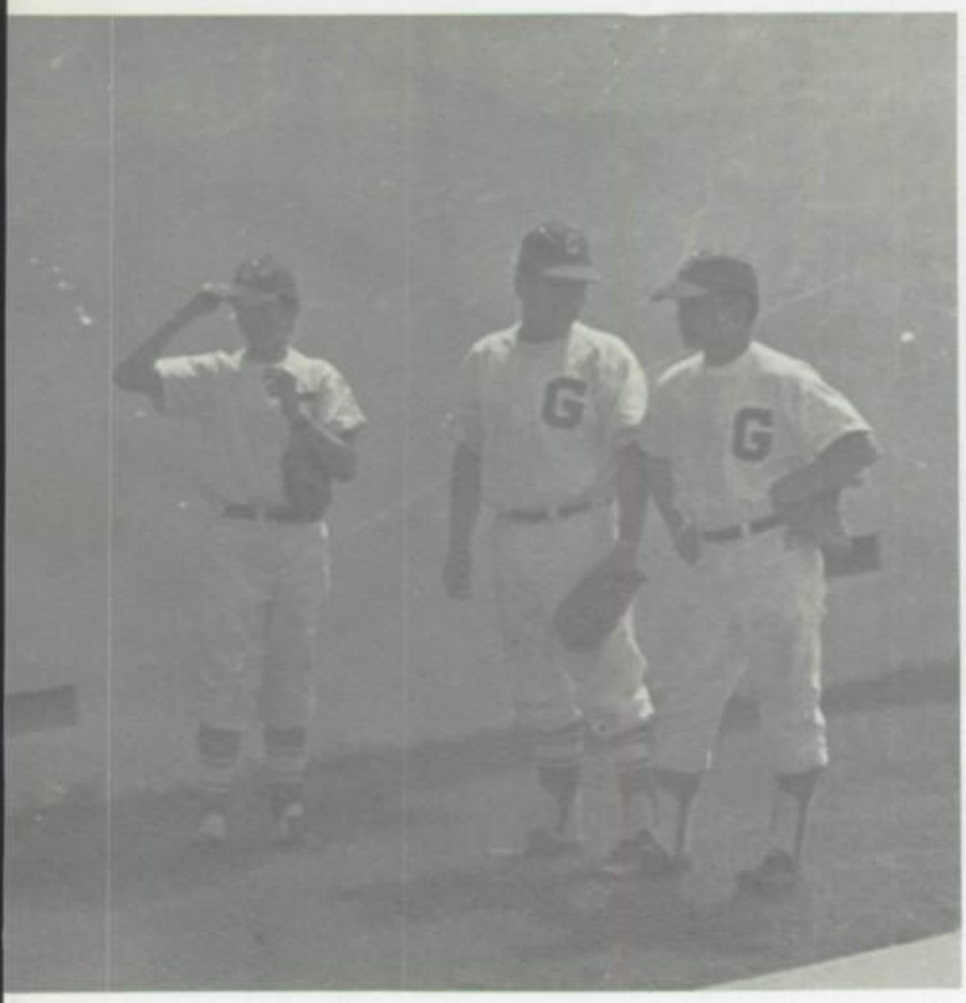
With ranks of Sophomore and Junior returning players and the added strength of a flood of Freshman talent, the prospects of the Junior Varsity Team looked bright. Under the dedicated guidance of Coach Ray Hernand, a Bellarmine alumnus, they met strong opposition in all their games, and did well in both pre-season and league competition.

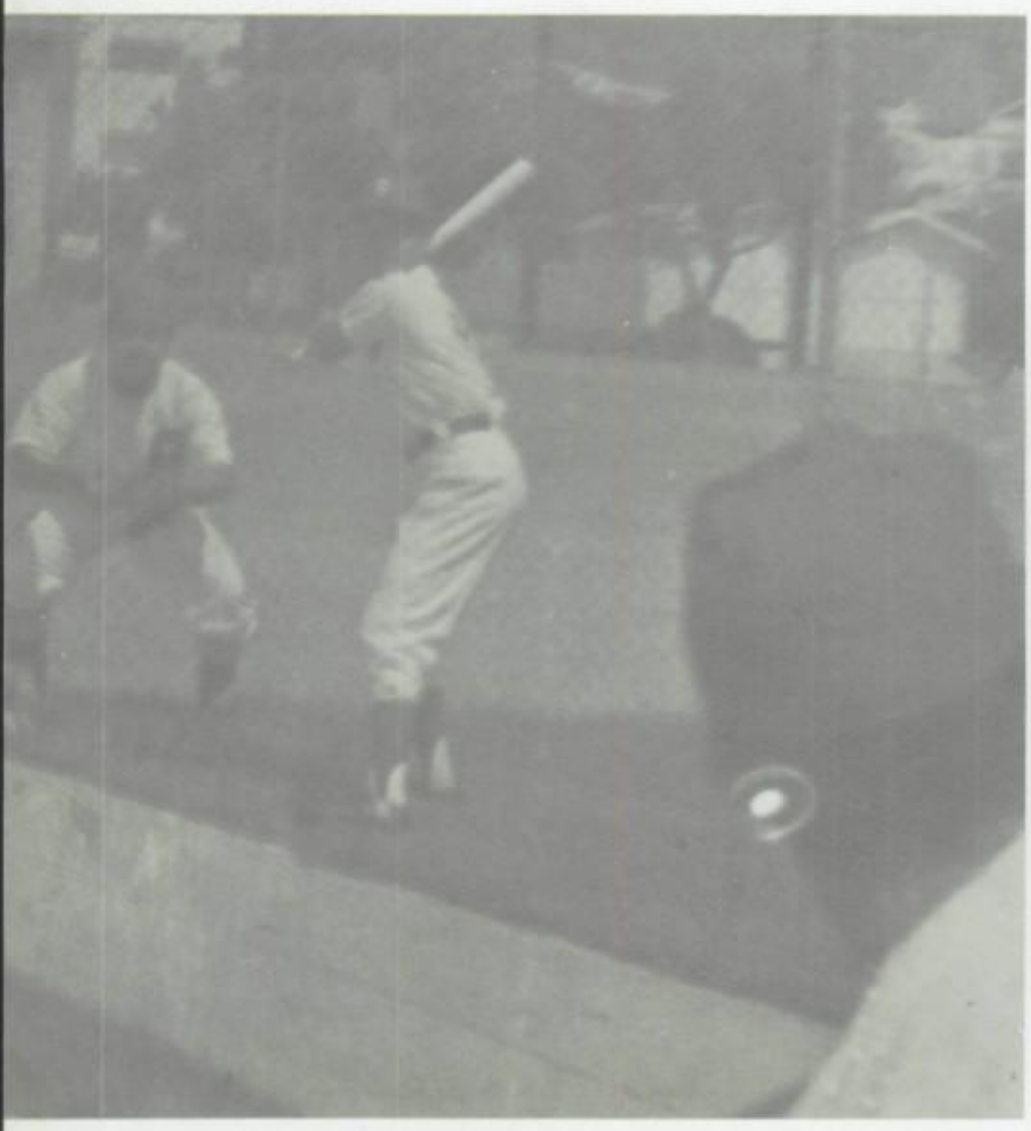
Varsity Coach Craven can be assured that the boys graduating to his squad from this J.V. team will be well able to carry the 1969-1970 season honorably.

When Team Meets Opponents in Competitive Sports



Pre-game strategy is all-important for Mark Colosanto, Mike Armendariz, and Joe Richardson.

Mark Colosanto snares a fence-high line drive.



Strenuous warm-up sessions are all in a day's work for J-V's Mike Armendariz, Bill Girard and Pat Byrne.

Sharp-breaking curve balls are a specialty of Joe Richardson.

Guards Varsity Experiences Action-packed Year

Eleven lively members made this year's girls' varsity volleyball team, the best up to date. With a season of hair-raising victories and losses — Coach Miss Jo Anne Miller has not only moderated an able athletic group, but has also established firm friendships and enthusiasms among its members.

The Most Valuable Player Award was given to Kathi Prutsman, while Vicki Graves earned the title of Most Inspirational Player. Both girls were chosen by their fellow teammates.

Villa Cabrini's Volleyball Tournament brought an end to the season, but a smile to all. B-J gave Immaculate Heart, league champion a close battle, and that is enough to satisfy any second year team.

As leaders, the Volleyball Team chose Mary Ann Hoffmann, Captain and Donna Hoffmann, Co-Captain.

Kathi Marriot commands, "And don't you try it again bud!"

Top row: April Behm, Lisa Jimenez, Sally Lee, Mary Hladky, Lena Le Blanc, Pattie Peterso
Carol Brezina, Kathi Marriott, Miss Jo Anne Miller, Dee Dee Schaub, Kathy Enay.

J.V.'s Experience Taste of Successful First Year

Tense moments in the game against Flintridge for Juli Biondi and and Mary Ann Hoffmann.

Vicki Graves yells "Mine" as teammates Donna Hoffmann and Pat Hoffmann prepare to back her up.

Donna Hoffmann waits for a pass from Lark Enciso.

With a rousing season, our Junior Varsity Volleyball team has offered great promises for future. Victories came against Holy Family, Notre Dame Prep., Loretto, Alemany, Providence, Flintridge with close calls again.

Dee Dee Schaub was chosen as most Valuable Player, while Kathi Marriot was given the Most Inspirational Player Award. Coach is Miss Jo Anne Miller.

Also, the J.V.'s have offered their strong support and spirit to the varsity team in their fight for the top, lead by Dee Dee Schaub, Captain and their Co-Captain, Kathi Marriot.

Girls' Basketball Scores High in Zest, Enthusiasm,

Fast break lead by small and powerful Louise Forgues.

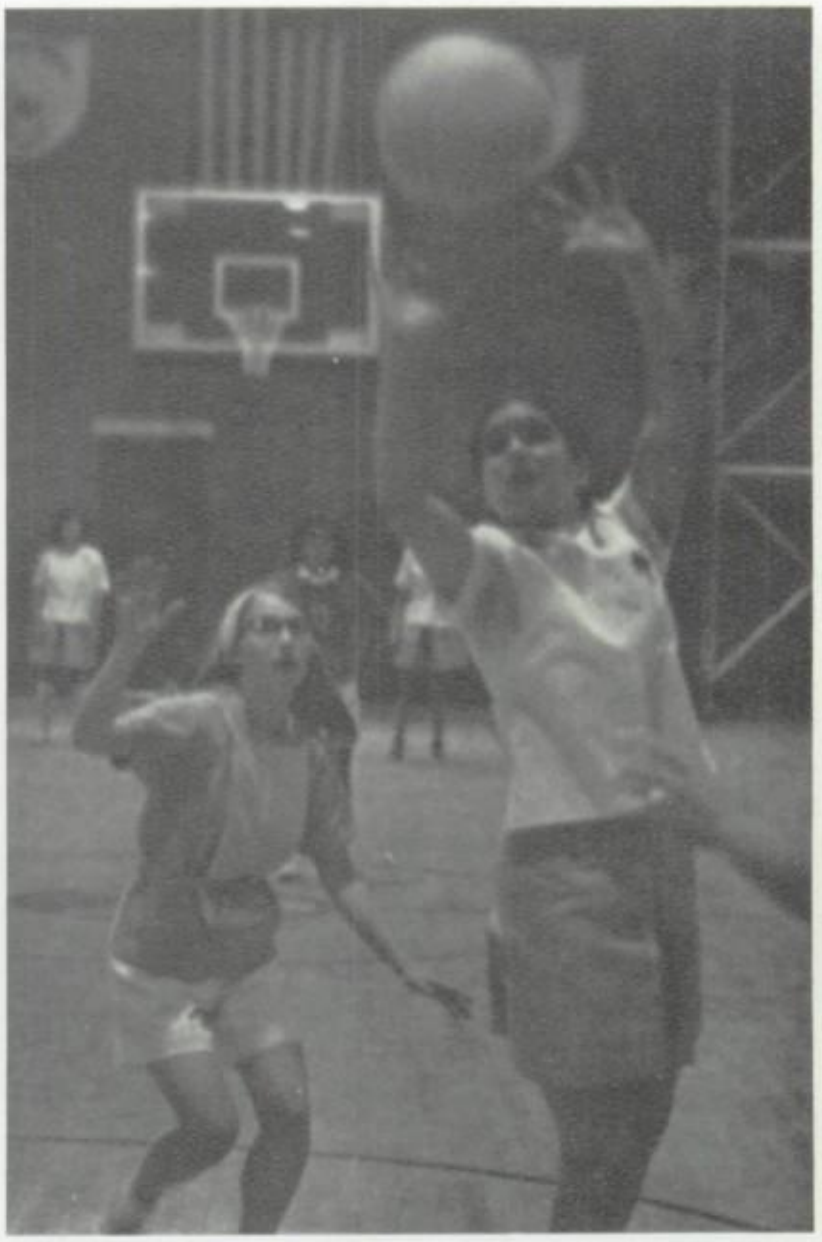
"To learn to win and lose," was the motto of the girls' Basketball team. Miss Miller's fifteen girls all participated and played important roles in games and tournaments. This was the team's second season and next year it will face league play for the first time.

Members spent many after school hours in practice to make their team a success. New friendships were formed when our girls met other teams in competition. Spirit was the moving force behind the group's vitality in play.

and Consistent Co-operation Among Members

Karen Gustavsen and Vicki Graves look with anticipation as Kathy Prutsman shoots for that scoring basket to win at Alemany 34-10.

Vicki Graves and Kathi Prutsman move into position as Kathy Enay goes high for a jump ball.



Lark Enciso shows B-J skill as she does set shot in Alemany game.

Girls' Softball Team Demonstrates Remarkable Skil

The girls' Baseball Team this year was one of the best B.J. has ever had. Every day after school the girls went to local parks to develop their skills and techniques. Miss Miller, their inspiring coach, put the team through many long, hard hours of practice. Her efforts paid off. The team achieved a successful season. Although the girls played for their own enjoyment, they learned that having good sportsmanship and cooperation among themselves are the essentials of this team sport.

Sportsmanship and Ability as It Faces Competition

Donna Hoffmann shows her strength when she socks it to 'em.

Devon to the rescue.

With lightning speed Laurie Murrin rushes to intercept the rapidly spinning object.

Georganne Funicello shows the crowd her great windup.

Dear Faculty and Students:

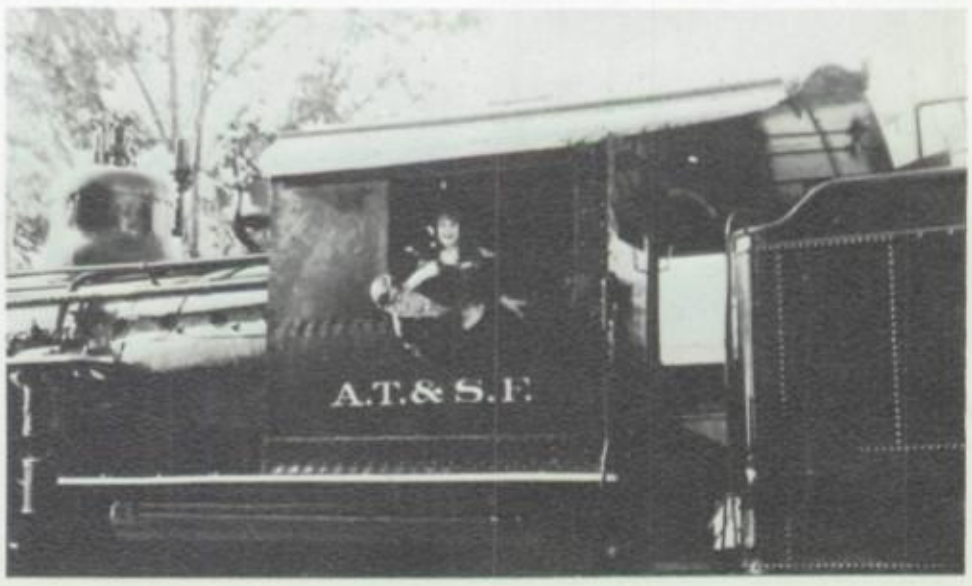
This year has held many exciting and unusual experiences. Maybe an insight to a few funny happenings would be good. The job of an Editor is one of a variety of responsibilities. When I accepted this position I never realized how many times I would be an Editor of dark room developments, in charge of Graduation pictures in the middle of February, a visitor of the Statler Hilton Hotel at 10:00 a.m. in a formal, and a model for Bob's Big Boy home family life restaurants in pig tails. My station wagon became a hay wagon in the process of carrying backdrop materials and a garden shop for carting trees and Cyprus bushes. I will never forget the fun and joy of finishing 53 pages with two equally tired staff members at 2:00 in the morning. I found myself a hapless victim of circumstance trying to get past police, chaperones, moderators, and the principal in rollers and pants to retrieve two pages supposedly behind the mighty walls of the B-J auditorium packed with dancing students on a Friday night.

It is all over now and I have succeeded in preserving these memories for you and your enjoyment.

Much appreciation goes to: the Moderator Sister Eileen Muench whose knowledge, patience, and experience aided us. The 25 staff members who devoted many, many hours of their time and originality to make this a better book. I feel they deserve a lot of credit for what they have accomplished in this book. Sister Mary Catherine O'Dwyer whose encouragement and help with Graduation mock-up meant a great deal to me. Jim Schoengarth, Linda Wardrop, and Carol Clancy who gave far beyond the call of duty to help make the many deadlines we faced. Mr. Jon Nelson of Killgore Graphics whose knowledge helped us to become familiar with our new company. A man that everybody knows and has posed for both, Mr. Bishop, who created for you many great photographs. I would like to add final thanks to Sheridan Gardens Nursery which provided plants for the Graduation mock-up and Casa de Tuxedo which loaned us enough tuxedos to make possible a prom mock-up.

I hope that next year's Editor will find as much joy and satisfaction as I have found in this job.

Your Editor of 1969,
Cathy McGann



Cathy McGann leaves John Faubion with a, "chug along and you're on your own now!"

Dear Sandy.

I have had a wonderful year here your friend, I also hope that you will be here next year. I am looking for 69-70, it will be a very good yea

This was brought to you by

Sergio Vogno

Well Sandra Marie,

Another year has passed in which I have had the anguish of having to see you day after day (Oh my God, how I have suffered !!) It really has been terrible! And just think, another two years with you. How I dread that !! Ever since we were little toddlers playing togther, I knew I would never get rid of you. You see, there was this one HA doll of yours, that told me everything about you when you weren't around and that's how I knew that I would be HA seeing you in my future life. (Whole paragraph, only kidding)

But anyway..... every time you go ~~to~~ sailing in your yacht (uh hum) you better bring me back some sea water so that by the time the summer is over I'll have a whole ocean in my back yard! Oh yes, and you better take me cruising in your Corvette or I'll sic Nicky-Poo and Ming-Poo on you!! So you better watch it!!

And about those ~~those~~ little brown pancakes, you better keep them fresh until the next time I come by and tell Gretchen to whip up a ~~trash~~ batch for me next time I come!

Sorry about that Gretchen

All kidding aside, it's really been neat having to be able to go to school with you. You know, it is kind of a coincidence (or however you spell it) that we happened to come to the same school. We might have never seen each other ever again. We would only have memories of those good old days with Idula. Do remember when we used to pick ivy from your yard and then go selling it door to door. HOW DUMB. Boy, we were stupid little kids! (And still are, HA HA)

Sure hope we'll be able to get together this summer and have loads of fun. Maybe we can even go to the Joey Bishop Show and see some more groovy grandmas!!

Love,
Sandra Colleen

P.S. Be sure and keep me informed on the latest episode of Romeo!

well what can I say after the long letter Sandy wrote you except Abetter stop writing so you'll have some paper left.

¡Buena Suerta!

Robyn

Dear Sandie,
Have a wonderful summer and I'll see you next year.
Best wishes,
Missy

Sandie,

To a person who seems to be wonderful Bt I know not much of, Any way, have fun and don't stop?

Bill

Hi Sandie,

Its been really groovy knowing you these past 2 years and I hope we can get to know each other even better in the next 2. Have fun on your boat (bucks) this summer and watch out for those sailors. See ya next year.

Live and Love,

Lorrie

Sandie

Have fun this summer + good luck in coming years.

Have a nice Summer and much fun with your Covette 350 c.i.m. 400 hp.. turbo 4 barrel Carburator. Tangerine Pink with 1½ seat belts. Do me one favor though, enjoy the car with me!
I know people like Engles will be after you but 0 come first. Where is whats' his name?
Love always, Albert Del Calvo
P.S. A word to describe you is: "gorgeous", so listen you ½ Blonde ½ blackhead, keep it easy and don't forget Big Al!
Love Always in Myself.
Albert Del Calvo
(future star of LA LAKERS)
P.S.2 Do you have a nickel I can borrow?
Think of it, If I ever become senator, dictator or something, this will be priceless, so keep it with you unless someone offers you $10,00 for it.
Then sell it!!!

Like always, I have to watch out for my friends, for if they get in a fight, I always have to get them out of it. God luck always, and may you become a mother soon.

Sincerely yours,
Al "Big Al"

Hi, Another year is ending with a enjoyable summer ahead. Just forget all your problems and have the best summer yet. It's been great knowing you and I'm sure our friendship will continue through the rest of our lives.

Dear Sandy,
I didn't know you very well this year, but during freshmen year, I got to know you pretty well and I'm sure glad I got to know you. It wasn't easy for you to pick up and start all over again, but I'm trying to wander through my life and know I won't ever forget me and know I won't may you happen to you. We may
BUT, if you always open to you will stick heart is always open to you as the one during the summer, but you remember you the always remember you during I'll always love you,
go. I'll always love you, & felt down.
when & felt forget you.

Sandy
You're such a great girl & wish you were a freshmen this year. So I could be in a lot of your classes.
